THE STRIKE IN PARIS.

A general strike of the telegraphers of the postoffice department in Paris was declared yesterday evening, following a meeting of the General Association of Post-Telegraphe employes, at which 5,000 were present, and orders were issued immediately for the withdrawal of all operators employed in the telegraphic bureaus of the department.

The resolution cites that the strike ction is taken as a protest sgainst the arbitrary and tyrannical administration, and that the decision was precipitated by an iosult addressed by M. Simysu, on an ineut addressed by M. Simyan, under accretary of posts and telegraphs, to the officials of the association. Sometime prior to taking a vote the General Association of Employes issued a statement protesting vigorously against M. Simyan's charge that the movement was aparchistle.

The meeting broke up without disturb-ance of any kind, and the services of a heavy force of reserves of police and mounted municipal guards about the building were not required.

The girl operators employed in the telephone bureaus in the afternoon had ur animously decided to sbide by the decision of last night meeting, while 350 rails ay mail clerks, due to leave on outgoing trains during the course of the evening, also decided to awa't that de-The strike, therefore, involves the various branches of the service. Lass then a third of the rallway mallelerks failed to r port for duty.

The government put forth every effort to preserve international communication, but the central telegraph station was demoralized last night and practically out of commission, communication shroad through the Paris station stopping at 6 o'clock,

B th telegraphic and telephonic communication with London was greatly interrupted. Some of the London corespondents are sending their dispatches by way of New York, to which both land lines of the cable remain open. The English postmen have telegraphed $5,000 to the strikers.

SALT DEALER SWINDLED.

Famuel Steinwarzel, a salt dealer of New York, is bemeaning the loss of $2,000 in cash, which he paid for a little box, neatly filled with small black pebbles and which he supposed to be liamonds. According to his comp'aint, Isidor Siegel, an acquaintance, came to his place and told him he had a friend who had diamonds to sell. There were about $8,000 worth, but the friend would let them go for $2,000. The diamonds were brought to Steinwarzels for inspection, and the salt dealer took them to a jaweler, who said they were morth more than $3,000. Stilswarz-l then agreed to pay $2,000 for the atones. He thought he would surprise his wife and that he would open the box when they at down to dinner. Steinwarzel pu the box away and in the evening took it home. At the right moment be produced the box and handed it over to his wife. He held his brash while she unwrapped the package, until she should beheld the spleador of the gems. When she opened the box she exclaimed: "A present you as ? Why these are conpresent, you say? Why these are com-mon stones." Amazed and coraged, Stainwarzel seized the box and rushed to the Union Market station and told his story. Detectizes arrested Siegel. They arraigned him before Magistrate Moss, in the Essex Market Court yesterday, where he was held in $2,000 bail for examination Thursday.
